The Boston Liberator says:

"There is no court to appeal to except the people of the United States, but a daring usurper of the rights and liberties of the people of the North."

If you valuate a law of the United States, Mr Garrison, we think we will find an Executive that will make you answer for it.—Boston Post

That (says the Albany Journal) depends altogether upon circumstances. If, for instance, "Mr Garrison" should head a gang of pro-slavery rascals to prevent the legal voters of a territory from exercising their rights at the ballot box, he would suffer no danger at the hands of the Executive.

Or if "Mr Garrison" should coolly murder a Free State man for daring to express his honest opinions, the chances would be ten to one that, instead of being provided with a halter, the "Executive" would give him a snug birth in the Land Office.

Or if "Mr Garrison," in his zeal to make a Slave State out of a Free Territory, should make up fraudulent election returns, so as to secure a Pro-Slavery Legislature, instead of being sent to the Penitentiary, he would most likely be made a Purser in the Navy.

Or, still more likely, if "Mr Garrison" should fit out a filibuster Expedition against a friendly power, and be caught in the act, instead of being sent to jail, he would be invited to dine at the White House, while the officer who arrested him would be cash'd and reprimanded.

Our Bangor friends are earnestly urging a railroad from Aroostook to Bangor, not from any selfish or local consideration, but solely to benefit Aroostook and to develope the State resources. Suppose, as Bangor is pecularly disconnected, the road should be carried across from the south part of Aroostook into Brownville, taking along with it the product of the slate quarries and the Katahdin iron works, passing to the south and western of Moosehead lake, and coming out to the Penobscot above Shawmut, and there cross that noble river to connect with the road up that way. Such a road would accommodate Aroostook, accommodate the slate and iron interests, pass through a populous region for a considerable portion of the way, but what can Bangor friends favor it?—Bath Times

We might as well ask our disinterested Kennebec friend, why make the railroad connection at Skowhegan? Why not pass along north of that place—crossing the Kennebec, as well as the Penobscot,—and connect with the Androscoggin Railroad at Farmington, on the Sandy River. That connection would bring them within some 70 miles of Portland, and would be about as sensible as to build from "the southern portion of Aroostook" to Skowhegan,—90 or 100 miles—across all the ridges and watercourses on the route—instead of getting both railroad and deep tide-water connection on the Penobscot, within 50 miles from the same point of southern Aroostook. A railroad from Milford to the Aroostook country, including a branch up the Piscataquis river, to Brownville, would be from 20 to 30 miles shorter than the most direct route from Skowhegan to Aroostook. And when our Piscataquis friends should go to Skowhegan with their slate and iron, they would find themselves still 35 or 40 miles from any point where they could ship those productions to a seaboard market.

How the Whig & Courier

If any one wishes to get a clear insight into the case of the Amistad Captives—which has just been brought afresh to public consideration by President Buchanan, in his Annual Message—let him read the argument of the late John Quincy Adams in their behalf. He can possibly obtain it. It ought to be republished at this time—and it is to be hoped will soon be, either in newspaper or pamphlet form. Such a bold and conclusive reasoning ought to set it ever at rest the preposterous claim of compensation for their rescue.

The impression which the noble effort of Mr Adams made upon me at the time—some ten or eleven years ago—come fresh to my mind in a morning, on turning over the following among some other of my manuscript effusions.—O. K.

Dec. 22.

To John Quincy Adams.

On reading his argument in the case of the Amistad Captives.

The hosts of the Ocean are the greatest when dying,
The hopes most beautiful in Summer's decay,
The last sunset the greatest with most colored tying
Expand to the shroud of the rich parting day.

Then, too, revered patriot, statesman and sage—
The lights are brightest the sickness's near brow—
When the soul rises with all the wisdom of Age,
So did its labors at most shine so brightly as now.

For then thy statesmanship the years and seasons'd—
Thine honor of it to be the unyielding shrine—
Thine noblest efforts the strong, be pretens'd,
And found the young heart fired its impulse to grasp—I.

For thus, and, still more, for thy name freely given,
In such a cause to earth's great cause shepherd,
And hurled out of power spirit pealed unto Heaven,
As this effort, bleed really, most justly be prized.

The seed of the captive shall bless with the sighing
From Africa's plain distress, and each agent enemy foreign Into "
Rise the praises for deliverance cause not in vain
With the prayer for earth's freedom more valley or mountain

The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian, alluding to the result of the Cardwell trial, in this city, says criminal justice is as great a farce in the Commercial Emporium as it was in that southwestern State, where a man who was put upon on trial for a swindling case, was found guilty of second degree. Perhaps it was in the second degree.

New Publications.

The Atlantic Monthly, for January, being the first number of the new volume is received from the publishers, Messrs Phillips, Sampson & Co. The leading articles are "Olympus and Asgard," "Agassiz," "Maid of the Sea," "The new Life of Dante," "The Minister's Wooing," and "Bulls and Bears," continued. The Professor at the Breakfast Table, opens in a style which amply establishes an ability to fill the chair (pro) the Autocrat. Among the literary critiques is a discriminating review of White's Shakespeare.

Wild Sports in the Far West. By Frederick Gerstaecker. Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. 1849.

In this beautiful volume of 400 pages, we have a translation of a recent German work, in which the author gives a lively and graphic description of his observations, adventures, and hunting achievements during a tour in the Far West of our country. It is an exceedingly interesting book, although the author does not lay claim to speak plainly at times, and to dash cold water where it is needed upon the romantic pictures drawn by some writers of the "Wild Sports of the West." The volume is very handsomely illustrated, by full page engravings, executed in oil colors—a new and striking style of pictures for illustrations of this kind.

The Saskatchawan.—At the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, near the 50th parallel, a river takes its rise, flowing in an easterly direction to Lake Winnipeg. It is the Saskatchawan—a noble stream draining an immense territory. The country around it is called the Saskatchawan country—containing an area of territory which would make ten states as large as Iowa. This section of the world, hitherto has been but little known; but it is soon to be, in the probable progress of human events, a populous section. Lake Winnipeg—a body of water as large as Lake Erie, lies near the center of this vast territory, and it receives an addition to the Saskatchawan, the Red River of the North, which rises in the territory of Minnesota and flows through as rich and fertile a valley as lay on the American continent. In the valley is the Selkirk Settlement, Pembina, Fort Garry. It is a deep stream running due north 850 miles, navigable for large Steamers. There are numerous other streams, flowing through that section, but these are the principle.

This vast section of territory is beginning to fill up rapidly with settlers. It is an inviting region, if all reports are true. West of Winnipeg, the climate is as mild as that of Massachusetts. The whole of this section is adapted to wheat culture, and although it is so far North, Indian corn can be successfully cultivated, in the southern part.

Towards this fertile country our American lines of railways are reaching. The distance from St Paul, Minnesota, to the navigable waters of the Red river of the North, is 200 miles, over an elevated plateau. Sixty miles of this road is under contract to be completed in 1859, and measures are taken to push it on rapidly over the line surveyed by Gower & Stevens for the North Pacific road, that the settlements on the Red river may be brought into communication with St Paul.

The New York Chamber of Commerce has lately taken notice of this section of this country.

They say truly that "When this road shall be completed, another grand division of the continent, comprising half a million square miles, will be open to settlement, in which communities will spring up with a rapidity which has marked the marvellous growth of our own country, possessing all the elements of prosperity, and of extensive commerce."

England is directing her attention to this subject. Parties are now traversing the places of the Saskatchawan, surveying the line of the great Pacific railway, which bids fair to be constructed while we are quarrelling in our jealousy over the routes to the Pacific. The future of this section is full of interest.—Boston Atlas.

The Emperor Russia.—"If I cannot announce to you yet," says a letter from St Petersburg, "the definitive application of the great measure concerning the emancipation of the serfs of the nobles, I am, at least, happy to inform you that, in what refers to the serfs of the Crown, the matter progresses rapidly, and in the best manner possible. Thus, I hold in my hands a new ukase, decreeing that all the serfs attached to the mines within the jurisdiction of the Minister of Finance, should be declared free at the end of six months. With this view the Emperor has appointed three commissions—one for the mines and serfs of the Government of Moscow; a second for those in the neighborhood of Orenburg, and the third for the Ural districts."

In order to make clear this, it must be known that all crown peasants connected with the mines were originally free; but Peter the Great, wanting to introduce and stimulate metallurgic industry in Russia, conceded to all who would develope the mineral wealth, merchants and nobles, village communities of wood to serve to the working of the mines. The rights of these new proprietors over the persons of the peasants were at first limited; but by degrees they encroached them more nearly, and the peasants became at last real serfs—whose situation, however, it must be confessed, is more supportable than that of those in the nobles. However, some what may, the hour of liberty is going to extend for thousands of men, who will consequently have the right of property over their persons, will be citizens, and will be able to go who ever they please.

Our complicated difficulties in Central America should teach our government this one lesson—honesty. Had we not a lawful title to the plunder which the ex-pirate, Walker, to invade Nicaragua, had this government daily protected the transit while it was in American hands, and successfully operated, and had it remained Capt Paulding in his decisive conduct toward the filibusters, allied fleets would not now occupy the harbor of San Juan, and the people of the United States would not deplore the loss of their best line of communication with California. We are but paying the penalty of our "pleasant vices" in encouraging the depredations of freebooters upon other peoples' lands and goods. We dare boldly proclaim.—Cor. New York Courier and Enquirer.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

☞We understand Rev Rogers S. Howard will preach in St John's (Episcopal) Church, in accordance with the unanimous request of the congregation, during the absence of the Rector, Rev Mr Ullmer, at Lubec Ridge, and on account of the severity of the weather on Sunday evening last, as to render her death. The family were at meeting, and the girl, aged about fifteen years, was left to take care of the children. The girl was able to isolate the incidentation of the sad reality, which were as follows:—She sat near the stove, rocking the crib, in which was a young child; the door of the stove was open; the all asleep, and supposed that a coal was thrown from the stove, by which her dress was set on fire. Some gentleman came by and broke the house in time to prevent the fire from doing further damage.—The girl died at about 1 o'clock on Monday morning.—Eastport Sentinel.

Fire in Norridgewock.—The store recently occupied by Brett & Capen was entirely consumed by fire this morning together with all its contents. The cooper shop connected with the building was also destroyed. The building belonged to the estate of the late Samuel Leighton, and was insured for 1000. The goods were insured for $2000.—Eastport Sentinel.

Androscoggin R. R. Co.—At the annual meeting of the Androscoggin Railroad Company, held at Wilton on Tuesday, the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year: John B Jones, Lewiston; Ensign Otis, Leeds; John Smith, Livermore; Giddings Lane, Leeds; John Dunn, Freeman; Orias Millett, ——; Stephen H Reed, Lewiston.

Launched.—In Bluehill the 20th inst. from the ship yard of R G W Dodge, Esq., a fine barque of 600 tons called the "Gushen Glade." This barque was built by master Eben Mayo, and for beauty, strength, nicety of finish, and workmanship far exceeds any vessel ever built in Bluehill. She has been sold to parties in Castine together with her spars for $18,000.

Passports for Maine, issued from the United States Patent Office, for the week ending Dec. 21, 1858, and bearing that date:

Henry T. Clay, of Ward ner, Me.—for improvement in shingles.

Tristrem S Lewis, of Kendall's Mills, Me.—for improved folding bench.

Cow Killed.—A cow was killed on board the cars of the S. & K Railroad on Tuesday, just as the train arrived at the Waterville depot. She attempted to break from one car to another, and fell so that she "dangled" between the two.—Waterville Mail.

Cow Chasing.—Mr. Joseph J Hilton of Corinville, got cheated out of two yoke of oxen at the Brighton Meat Market last week, in the following manner:—A gentlemanly looking man approached him and began to banter for the oxen; a trade was soon made, and Hilton let the oxen go, agreeing to wait one hour for his pay. After waiting two hours he began to be uneasy and made enquiries by which he learned that the person to whom he had sold was irresponsible and was probably intending to cheat him out of them. He procured a warrant, and set the police upon his track. They succeeded in finding the rogue, but he had sold the ox and disposed of the money, and the person to whom he had sold had killed them and refused to give up the beef.—Skowhegan Telegraph.

Hasty to be Married. It appears by the evidence in a divorce case now on trial at New Haven, brought by a Mrs Dr Bennett against her husband, and revealing the most unhappy life imaginable for years, that her young lady married upon short acquaintance and without her father's approbation or consent; he had never, in fact, seen the bridegroom till after the marriage. The results that followed this hasty and ill-considered union were just what might have been expected.

A Long "Found"—Ship George Peabody, of Boston, from Chincha, Islands, took a gale off Cape Horn, Sept 10th, and in 62 hours "scudding" made 764 miles, running to lat 59 South.

Hon T Pillsbury, formerly member of Congress from Texas, died at his residence near Danville, in that State, on the 23d ult. He was in his 69th year.

"When a stranger treats me with want of respect," said a philosophic poor man, "I console for myself with the reflection that it is not myself that he slights, but my old shabby coat and hat, which, to say the truth, have no particular claim to admiration. So if my hat and coat choose to fret about it, let them, but it is nothing to me."

A new gambling house has been opened at Washington, and engraved invitations have been sent to all the M Cs and other people supposed to possess loose change. At the bottom of the card are the hours at which the table is to be spread during the winter. "Dinner at 6; Supper at 10; breakfast at 12"—From this it may be inferred that those who "fight ye tiger" will rise late in the day, and commence business operations early in the evening.

Conviction of Murder. Boston, Dec 24th. The second trial of McNulty for shooting police officer Hedsdon, resulted in a verdict of murder in the second degree.

The Winnes steamer, building a Baltimore, is now rapidly approaching towards completion, and it is anticipated that she will be ready for trial in ten days or two weeks, at the farthest. Her smoke stacks, lookout house and upper works are now all complete. Her machinery is all up, and almost in working order, exhibiting a capacity of power in her four engines capable of propelling a frigate of twenty fifty times her tonnage. There are two quite capacious cabins at either end of the vessel, with iron floor, and twelve dead lights to each, giving sufficient light to see to read in any part of them. Her trial trip will be looked for with great interest.

During the personal canvass of Mr Garnett among the electors of Salford, England, he and his friend's calling at a huckster's shop found only a boy, who having learnt their business, went to the foot of the stairs and called, "Mother, here's a man as wants ya'r vote for him to be a Parliament man." "Well," shouted the mother, "tell him ye feyther's not in, but if he will chalk his name on th' counter, we'll inquire into his character."

"That Sar."—There is a decision in the last volume of Gray's Reports, which is at once sound morals and good law. A woman sued for slander, defended on the ground that she only repeated, and without malice, what was currently reported. The Court held that to repeat a story, which is false and slanderous, no matter how widely it may have been circulated, is at the peril of the tale bearer—slander cannot always be traced to origin. Its power of mischief is derived from repetition, even if a disbelief of the story accompanies its relation. Indeed this half doubting way of imparting slander, is often the surest method resorted to by the slanderer to give currency to his tale.—Transcript.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24th

It is said that Senor Vasserra, the Spanish Minister, has officially informed Secretary Cass that the difficulties between the Spanish authorities and the guiberatus of Tampico are settled; but a letter from a commercial house in Tampico, just received here, contains a totally different statement, further message, that no soon as the weather will permit, the Spanish fleet will concentrate off the whole coast, from Lagguna to Tampico, it is confirming previous advices.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided on appeal that beer root, used in the manufacture of paper, is chargeable with a duty of fifteen per cent. The cotton velvet part of dyed colouing robes is quoble 24 per cent., and the worsted part 19 per cent. The importer had claimed on entry at fifteen per cent. for said duck, but no such article is specified in the tariff of 1857.

Pearl, though strung on thread, if imported to be set in the United States, are to be charged four per cent.

Bags of American manufacture exported from the United States, filled with grain and afterwards imported empty, or exported empty and afterwards imported filled with grain, will be admitted free of duty.

Tea laden on board of junks, in waters within the territorial limits of China, is considered as laden in the ports of that country; but tea, the product of China, purchased and laden on board of Chinese junks in the roadstead, harbor or waters of Singapore, cannot be treated as coming from the country of production, and will be subject to duty.

The Secretary has overruled the decision by which duty was charged on mallsonnes and pieces them with curtainines wrought or unwrought but manufactured. The following regulations have been prescribed under the tariff of 1846 and have been re affirmed on questions arising on appeal under the tariff of 1857

Putiable merchandise imported into the United States and afterwards exported, although it may have paid duty on the first importation, is liable to duty on every subsequent importation.

Wheat when imported in moderate quantities exclusively for experiment and improvement in agriculture, is to be free of duty.

The joint resolutions introduced in Senate by Senator Brown crabing the Bravet grade of acumral, was not passed but referred to naval committee.

He dispatch yesterday about the opening of the Senate with prayer, should have read: Father Boyle was in full pontifical dress, instead of the senate being full of priests.

P. P. P.

PERRY DAVIS—SIR: The bottle I have received from you one of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer is now me to pen a word of praise for it. Experience has fully proved me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the stomach, or any other part of the system, Sores Throat, Worthless, Common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA Cholera Morbus, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, &c there is nothing better than the Pain Killer I have the hour restored from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonfuls, taken at about 20 minutes interval in a wine glass full of hot water. I am confident that, through the blessing of God, I saved me from the Cholera during the summer of 1848. Travelling much host, dust, cold, change of diet and exposure to a tainted atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one tea spoonful curing the worst case in an hour, or at most, half a day I have heard many cases, the country over of dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the teeth it would stop the toothache. Externally, and a desire for its general use, has driven from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor. D. T. TAYLOR, Jr.,
Minister of the Gospel.

EATON'S ARITHMETIC.

BANGOR, Oct. 27, 1858

At a meeting of the School Committee, held this evening, it was ORDERED—That EATON'S ARITHMETIC be introduced into our Intermediate, Grammar and Select Schools, instead of Greenleaf's, now in use. Attest:

(Signed) HENRY B. SHAW, Sec'y.

The decided satisfaction which this book gives in the school-room, and its unprecedented success, prove that it is a work of rare merit.

All those who are dissatisfied with the books now in use, are requested to give this an examination

They will find it the most clear, concise, logical and practical treatise on written Arithmetic extant, following as it does the plan of Quackenbos's First Lessons—the two make a complete and popular series

Copies furnished for examination on receipt of postage—10 cents—on application to BROWN, TAGGARD & CHASE,

SCENES
AROOSTOOK!

MR. DELAVAN takes pleasure in informing the citizens of Bangor that he has completed his series of Paintings of Aroostook, which are Nine in number, 18 by 9 feet in size, and cover 1600 square feet of canvass. Their titles are—

View near Mattawamkeag,
View in Aroostook, with Ktahdin,
View of Mars Hill, from Houlton;
View from Parkes' Hill, near Houlton,
Junction of the Aroostook and Presque Isle Rivers.
View of Intervale near Presque Isle;
View of Quoggy Joe Lake, and surrounding territory,
View of the Presque Isle Valley,
Aroostook as it is, and as it will be!

The above Scenes are chosen with the idea to show the character and give an idea of the extent of the Aroostook. The view of the Presque Isle valley extends to Mount Ktahdin, which can be easily seen on a clear day, distance over ninety miles.

Mr. DELAVAN hopes these scenes will please all who come to see them, and they are of interest to all, at present, who live in the State.

They will be on exhibition soon, of which due notice will be given. dec21

LINCOLN'S WATER PROOF BLACKING,

AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your feet dry, and you will seldom need a Physician

IS it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when the feet are often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and cracks, but when it is water-proof this is remedied By the application to this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water.

After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of Leather in all its branches, and being often in trouble with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions, and found it easy to make it water proof, but at the latter time extremely injurious to the leather At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly accomplishes with the accompanying properties with which leather is tanned, it will not only make leather water-proof, but likewise softens the leather, and it will Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years and a large part of that time have worked in a wet tannery with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time I can therefore in all confidence, recommend it to the public as the best article in the market

TESTIMONIALS

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MAGINNIS,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and in my opinion but few if any are his equals. He seems to exhibit for them an unity and faithfulness of attachment for the interests of his employers, which makes them invaluable.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Glenn's Falls, N. Y., June 7, 1858

Mr R H Eddy has made for me fifteen Applications, all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uniformly successful issues are highly complimentary to the talent and ability he has displayed in conducting my business, and I cheerfully recommend all inventors to employ him.
